

So help me God

Words by Jude J. Friedman.

Music by Allan Rich.

I am lost, I've been led a stray.
Once again I need your light and love
to lead the way.
I know I don't deserve it,
but I promise it's the end.
So, if you rescue me
just one more time,
you'll never have to do it again.
So help me God, help me God.
Help me God.
Help me please.

It's the truth. I can't tell you a lie.
You're the only one
who's been there for me,
each and every time.
So now, I guess it's my turn,
to prove my self to you.
So go ahead, ask me anything at all and that's what I am going to do.
So help me God, help me God.
Help me God, please help me.

God. Help me God.
You've been so understanding and patient with me.
It took me some time,
but now I see.

I am awake. Now I have been found.
You can count on me forever more.
I never gonna let you down.
So help me God, help me God,
help me God, please help me.
